THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COUNCIL last night, including the tax bill as amended and finally passed, will be found upon our first page.

ACCIDENT.—One of the workmen employed in the South Carolina Railroad shops had four fingers cut from his hand yesterday by a circular saw. His wound was dressed, and though the fingers are missing, the thumb fortunately remains, and he will yet be enabled to use his hand.

FREEDMEN'S SAVINGS AND TRUST COMPANY.—From the monthly report for December it appears that the total amount of deposits for the month at all the branch banks was $262,738.61; the total drafts $233,641.79; and the total amount due depositors $458,770.17. At the Charleston bank, over which Mr. Nathan Ritter presides, the deposits in December were $31,483.47; the drafts $33,449.98; and the balance due depositors $45,900.15.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAXES.—Hon. F. A. Sawyer, the Assistant United States Collector for this district, has prepared a blank form showing what articles require to be stamped under the Internal Revenue laws, and the amount of the stamp to be put on each article. This table has been printed by H. Harris, of Broad-street, and will be for sale to-day or to-morrow. Every man in the retail trade should buy a copy, as it may protect him against his own carelessness as well as the paid informers.

CHARLESTON BRIDGE COMPANY.—At an adjourned meeting of this company, held yesterday, 21st instant, the following gentlemen were elected directors for the ensuing year: ALEX. H. BROWN, JAS. M. EASON, WM. EDWARD DUNSTON, J. M. TREHOLM, B. C. PRESLEY.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held immediately thereafter, Alex. H. Brown was elected President, and V. J. Tobias Secretary.

SALES OF REAL ESTATE.—Messrs. R. M. Marshall & Brother sold yesterday the plantation known as "Sportsman's Retreat," containing about nine hundred acres of high land, and two hundred acres of rice land, on the eastern side of the western branch of the Cooper River for eleven hundred dollars. Conditions—one-third cash; balance payable in one, two, three and four years, with interest.

Messrs. Leitch & Bruns sold at the same time, for Master Gray, a lot thirty-five by one hundred and fourteen feet, with the buildings thereon, on the north side of Calhoun-street for seventeen hundred and fifty dollars. Terms—one-fourth cash; the balance in five equal annual installments.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT THE SOUTH CAROLINA RAILROAD YARD.—Yesterday afternoon while some white boys were playing on the roofs of the cars near Columbus-street, one of them, named James Earley, endeavored to leap upon the roof of a car on the Columbia night train, which was passing at the time.

Unfortunately, he fell between the cars, four of which passed over his body above the hips, cutting him in two, and killing him instantly. The cars were immediately stopped, and every assistance rendered, but life was extinct. It has been the practice of the boys in the vicinity of the railroad to play upon the roofs of the cars, and they have frequently had narrow escapes by indulging in their foolhardy practices. Earley was about eleven years of age, and a son of an employee of the road. The engineer who had charge of the train is considered blameless in the matter.

LOYALTY.—The testimony taken before the Commissioner of the Court of Claims, in this city, brings to light some curious facts. There are few persons who, during the war, invested their money in cotton, who cannot now show evidences of the most undoubted loyalty. Many of these "so-called original Union men" were at one time rabid secessionists, but that period of their life is now a blank, and no effort of memory can recall any movement they made in aid of the lost cause. To those who are "to the manor born," much of this testimony is amusing, as it shows the versatility of the witnesses, many of whom swear that they never "aided or abetted." Fortunately for their cause, their consciences and their cotton, they stand by each other, like a band of brothers, and play into each others hands. Among the numerous cases which have been recently heard by the commissioner is one of a mechanic of this city, who was employed to fit the fuses to the torpedoes sunk in the harbor. This consistent Unionist testified that while in the employ of the Confederate Government for this purpose he so arranged the fuses that they would not explode, and the torpedoes destined for the destruction of the Union fleet were consequently harmless. His assertions were supported and confirmed by other consistent Unionists who have already received their rewards, and are now enjoying the fruits of their loyalty in the shape of good fat places at Uncle Samuel's table.

COURT OF APPEALS.—CHIEF JUSTICE DUNKIN PRESIDING.—The consideration of the case of Boye and sundry depositors vs. the Charleston Savings Institution, occupied the whole day. Mr. Presley concluded his argument for appellants, and was replied to by Messrs. Henry Buist and Thomas Y. Simons, on behalf of appellees.

DISTRICT COURT.—HON. GEO. W. LOGAN PRESIDING.—The following cases were tried: The State vs. Jas. Fleming, and the same vs. Penny Saxaby. Indictment and cross indictment for assault and battery. Guilty as to Jas. Fleming, and not guilty as to Penny Saxaby.

The State vs. Cioe Fraser—Assault and battery. Guilty.

The State vs. Joseph Borden, Ned Pinckney, Sam Washington, and Geo. Henry Thomas—Larceny. Continued.

The State vs. Elias Smothers, Henry Rice and William Fell—Larceny and receiving stolen goods. The defendants being prisoners of the State, declined to insist on the charge of murder, considering that the deed was not done with any such motive, the evident contrition of the prisoner being a sufficient proof of his innocence in that respect.

The State vs. Wm. Johnson—Larceny. The same order was granted.

The State vs. Jack Williams—Larceny. R. W. Seymour, Esq., for the defense. Not guilty.

The State vs. Jno. Zanoga—Larceny and breach of trust. Messrs. Ficken and King for the defendant. Sealed verdict.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—HON. (SIR) S. BRYAN PRESIDING.—David J. Winn, of Sumter, was appointed assignee in the case of A. W. Suler—in bankruptcy.

N. Hart, of Charleston, was appointed assignee in the bankrupt cases of Frederick Christian and Adam Zoller.

Ex parte E. I. Strohecker. In re J. H. Andrews, alleged to be a bankrupt. Creditors petition for adjudication of debtors' bankruptcy. On motion of Messrs. Simonon, Glover & Lepore, it was ordered, that a trial by jury having been accorded J. H. Andrews, defendant, that he be enjoined from alienating any of the property, and that now in hands of the Sheriff of Orangeburg District be sold; the proceeds to be subject to further orders of the court. It was further ordered that G. H. Cornelison, Esq., Commissioner of the United States for Orangeburg, take the testimony, and report the same to this court before the seventeenth day of February, at which time the trial will be held.

Ex parte J. Reid Boyiston. In re Arold W. Suter, declared a bankrupt. Petition to reform the bankrupt's schedule, and for sale of property to pay special debtors. Messrs. Whaley, Mitchell & Clancy for the petitioners. On the motion of Messrs. Whaley, Mitchell & Clancy the case was referred to R. B. Carpenter, Esq.

In re A. T. Salts, Thos. Myers and L. L. Clyburn, bankrupts. The Judge approved and confirmed the resignation of W. D. McDowell.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS AND COMMON PLEAS.—HON. F. J. MOSES PRESIDING.—The court met on A. M. John Jenkins, charged with the murder of Richard M. Beaufort on the 24th day of June, 1868, was brought to the bar of the court to show cause why sentence of death should not be passed upon him. The indictment and the sentence of both the Court of General Sessions and the Court of Appeals was read by the clerk, and the Judge passed the sentence of death upon him, to be executed on the 14th day of February next.

The prisoner heard his sentence seemingly without emotion, and he received the conclusion of the Judge's remarks with a defiant smile.

The case of Jack Moultrie, a colored man, charged with the murder of his son by beating him to death, was then taken up. Before the prisoner was allowed to plead Thec. G. Barker, Esq., objected to the jury as being illegally drawn, and not having been summoned or impaneled by a lawful sheriff. Attorney-General Hayne stated that the jury was drawn by an order of the court, and such as it was, it afforded to persons confined for crimes a speedy trial. W. S. Hastie has been recognized as sheriff; his commission bore the broad seal of the State, and he was, in every point, a sheriff de facto if not de jure.

Mr. Barker said that if the members of the bar had acquiesced in this appointment, it could not make Mr. Hastie a lawful sheriff. He was sheriff neither de facto nor de jure, and his acts were illegal, and the jury drawn by him could only sit as a military commission.

Judge Moses said that the body before him, summoned by the law of South Carolina, bore no resemblance to a military commission. In refusing to sustain the objection of counsel, he would only follow the example set by the courts of the State from the highest to the lowest, they having all recognized the power referred to by counsel. If the state of affairs were reversed, a different conclusion would be arrived at by all. If the prisoner should be acquitted by the jury, at some future day, according to the argument of counsel, a bill could be presented by the grand jury upon the ground that he had been tried by a jury not known to the laws of the State. In all civilized governments the legislative power must be upheld, and though an officer appointed by an intruder he is nevertheless an officer de facto. When this question came up, he would then decide it. W. S. Hastie, the acting sheriff, has been accepted and recognized, and will be so considered until some proper adverse proceedings are begun. The condition of the country, at present bad enough, would be still worse if the courts were closed. While living under a government of any sort, there must be some legislative power, and such power must govern the community over which it rules.

The trial of the case of Moultrie was then resumed, Messrs. Conner, Porche & Grimbail appearing for the defense. After some challenges from the prisoner a jury was formed, the Attorney-General objecting to A. F. Gregory, the colored juror. The Attorney-General defined the crime of murder, and introduced Mr. McClellan as a witness for the prosecution, who stated that he was a magistrate in Berkeley District, and held an inquest over the body of the boy William Moultrie, who was about fifteen years of age, on the 4th of September. Jack lived some six miles from his wife, who resided at Dr. Wagner's. He played a small patch, and the boy was in the habit of bringing him provisions from his wife. He said the boy had been frequently disobedient to him, and impatient to his mother, and he had been threatening to give him a correction for some time. On this occasion he caught him, and, after some struggles, succeeded in tying him up to a beam in the house. He then drew a bag over his head to blindfold him while strapping him. The straps shined to the witness was about one and a quarter inches wide, and the prisoner said he gave him about twenty-five cuts. Seeing him struggle, he cut him down and applied fresh water, and then hot bricks, but the boy died a short time after. The body of the deceased was examined by the jury, and it was covered with bruises from the back of the neck to his knees.

Dr. Wagner testified that the boy was dead on the 3d of September. The mother notified him of the death and asked for a cart to go for the body. Thinking that the death was singular, he investigated the affair and found that death had occurred from violence; examined the body and found it covered with severe bruises, one on the chest quite large with the skin broken, and thought that death resulted from exhaustion caused by the flogging. There was also a cut on the temple.

Mary Alston (colored) testified to having gone for the body in a cart, and thinking the sudden death was unusual had notified Dr. Wagner.

Other witnesses testified to the death of the boy under the circumstances related, though there was no one who saw the transaction except a smaller brother of the deceased, whose affidavit was produced. The testimony showed that while the boy undoubtedly died from the flogging, the father had evidently committed the deed in a heat of passion, thinking that he had a right to correct his son.

Mr. Porche opened for the defense, and was followed by Mr. Grimbail. This was the maiden effort of these gentlemen, and they displayed tact and judgment in their grouping of the facts. The Attorney-General, on behalf of the State, declined to insist on the charge of murder, considering that the deed was not done with any such motive, the evident contrition of the prisoner being a sufficient proof of his innocence in that respect.

General Conner closed for the defense, and, after a full and comprehensive charge from the Judge, the jury retired, and after an absence of about two hours, brought in a verdict of not guilty.

A FOOL AND HIS MONEY.—About 9 o'clock yesterday morning, there was quite an excitement in Meeting-street, near Hassel. We saw a man throw bits of paper in the air, and quite a crowd of little boys, white and black, came in pursuit of the little impromptu kites. On coming up to the scene, we learned that the bits of paper were the 10 U's of Uncle Samuel. The liberal dispenser of greenbacks, for what reason we were not able to learn, seemed to enjoy the fun of the scramble, and quietly walked off. There was such a rush for the currency that we were not able to satisfy our curiosity, very natural under the circumstances, to learn whether the green "promises to pay" were counterfeit or bona fide legal tenders.

THE CHARLESTON CITY RAILWAY.—The only decided improvement in our city since the war is the City Railroad. It is one of the few signs which give assurance that we have not surrendered all hopes of material progress. We need not say that we wish success with all our hearts to this enterprise. Indeed, Mr. Riggs and his directors are long since beyond past needing our good wishes. They command success by deserving it. We have never seen any public enterprise at once come into such universal favor as these street cars. The only complaint we ever hear is that they do not go far enough. We should like to have the cars run to Magnolia Cemetery, and hope the company, encouraged by their past and present success, may soon feel warranted in continuing their road to that point.

In this morning's News will be found the schedule of the street cars, which we design publishing daily hereafter for the accommodation of the public, so that our readers may always know when a car will pass any given point.

LIFE INSURANCE.—It is known to the public through the advertisements in the papers and from personal contact with the agents, that quite a number of life insurance companies have branch offices in this city. It is surmised from their very presence here that they are doing a good business, that a good number of persons are taking policies. It is, perhaps, not generally known, however, that these companies when called upon to adjust claims, do so promptly, and thus present the greatest inducement for any and every one who can possibly do so to make suitable provision for his family while yet he has the ability to do so.

We take great pleasure in laying before our readers the following letter, which will furnish the best possible proof that the Southern Life Insurance Company is not behind any of its numerous Northern rivals in the promptness with which it meets the claims upon its policies.

CHARLESTON, January 21, 1888.

Walter Pannill, Esq., General Agent Southern Life Insurance Company, No. 69 Broad-street.

DEAR SIR: Having had to adjust a claim on the Southern Life Insurance Company, of Memphis, for a loss of $10,000, under Policy No. 763, we take pleasure in saying that the loss was promptly paid at maturity.

Respectfully yours,

Debility and Emaciation.

Both result from the lack of ability to convert the food into nutriment. How necessary, then, for those suffering from these alarming symptoms to immediately resort to a remedy that will strengthen the stomach and digestive organs. For, as soon as this desirable object has been accomplished, the health improves, and the patient resumes his usual personal appearance. HOSKETT'S STOMACH BITTERS have attained a world-wide popularity in such cases, and have been proven the best and safest means of removing constipation, toning the stomach, giving energy to the liver, and relieving every symptom of nervousness and depression of spirits. Its clearing and beneficial effects are highly spoken of by thousands, who owe to its restoration to health. No restorative in the annals of medicine has attained the same popularity in the short space of time it has been before the public, or has won the high endorsements accorded to this excellent tonic.

Many other preparations, purporting to be correctives and restoratives, have been introduced, and have perished one by one, while the popularity of HOSKETT'S STOMACH BITTERS continues to increase, and is now recognized as a standard household medicine. The success which attends the use of the Bitters comes at once its virtues in all cases of debility and diseases of the stomach. Certificates, almost without number, have been published, attesting its truly marvellous power in removing those painful and fearful diseases. And at this time it seems to do more than call attention to the great remedy of the age, in order to awaken public attention to its excellence. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it is therefore worthy of the consideration of the afflicted.

SHEPHERD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL, ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT, YALE COLLEGE, November 16, 1886.

I have always recommended the Faber Polygraph Lead Pencils as the only pencils fitted for both drawing and mathematics, and I have used a thorough trial of the American Polygraph Lead Pencils, manufactured by the American Lead Pencil Company, New York, and I am glad to report to any person in use, even to the Faber or the old English Cumberland Lead Pencil, being a superior pencil for sketching, ornamental and mechanical drawing, and all the ordinary uses of a lead pencil.

These pencils are very finely graded and have a very smooth lead; even the softest pencil holds its grade of softness, and does not become hard in use. It gives me great pleasure to be able to assure Americans that they will no longer be compelled to depend upon Germany or any other foreign market for pencils.
